FROM: Eileen Cassidy, Director
Graphic Arts Education and Research Foundation (GAERF)

DATE: January 20, 2010

SUBJECT: Introducing the... GAERF 2010 Student Design Competition

ENTER TO WIN...

The Graphic Arts Education and Research Foundation (GAERF) has a NEW challenge for your students this year...

TAKE THE CHALLENGE...

Your students are invited to create marketing materials designed to promote GRAPH EXPO 2011—the largest and most comprehensive trade show and conference for the graphic communications industry in the Americas!

The GAERF 2010 Student Design Competition invites your students to be creative by taking their original design from concept to finished product as they:

- Create a theme for GRAPH EXPO 2011
- Design artwork to support the theme, incorporating the GRAPH EXPO logo, show dates and location, and
- Produce a product that incorporates the theme and logo (i.e., advertisement, website page, postcard, etc.).

The GAERF 2010 Student Design Competition is open to all students attending recognized secondary or post-secondary institutions in the continental United States who are studying in a graphic communications/printing, advertising, graphic design or interactive media program.

CONGRATULATIONS! GAERF 2009 DESIGN COMPETITION WINNERS!

COMPETITOR INFORMATION

What is a trade show?

A trade show is an exhibition of vendors in a specific industry in which they showcase and demonstrate their latest products and services.

How do trade shows attract attendees?

Trade shows attract attendees by promoting the show via a variety of methods and media—with printed materials, online marketing techniques and social networking tools—crafted around a theme. A trade show theme is an essential element of the show's marketing campaign that ties the various marketing pieces together.

What is a trade show theme?

A trade show theme is a unique message that attendees will identify with the show, and around which all of the event's communications are crafted.

What is the GRAPH EXPO logo?

A logo is a graphic symbol used by companies and organizations to promote instant public recognition. A trade show logo is used to identify all marketing materials to promote the event.

What is GRAPH EXPO 2011?

GRAPH EXPO 2011, the year's largest and most comprehensive commercial printing, publishing, mailing and transactional exposition for the graphic communications industry in the Americas will be held in Chicago, IL from September 11-14, 2011.

Where can we learn more about GRAPH EXPO?

Visit www.graphexpo.com to learn about this year's show—GRAPH EXPO 2010. Here you will see how the show's theme, logo and design are incorporated for a coordinated visual campaign.
